

Welcome to the IAIS 2008 Annual Conference Website. Because your privacy on-line is very important to us, we want you to understand the HFSA's practice with regard to collecting and using information received from you. This privacy statement explains the privacy practices for the following web site: www.iais2008.org. The HFSA's Privacy Statement is not intended to supersede or modify the terms of any agreement between the HFSA and a third party. The observations laid down in this Privacy Statement also refer to Nexus Event Ltd. in its sphere of action.

Collection, Use and Disclosure of Information

You do not need to reveal any personally identifiable information to browse the website.

Customer Information

If you register for the Annual Conference online, the HFSA collects your name, address, telephone number, e-mail address and company name. The HFSA collects this information for purposes of registering for the Annual Conference, billing, problem resolution, security/authentication and aggregate usage reports. The HFSA may also use this information to create general mailing lists to support the organizer of the conference and to send promotional material related to the conference only. The HFSA also collects credit card information if you are making an online payment. The HFSA uses this information for billing purposes only. The HFSA does not provide customer information collected over the Internet to third parties.

The HFSA collects and stores the Internet protocol (the IP address) of the computer you are using, and the date and time you accessed the HFSA site. The HFSA also tracks the pages or documents accessed within its site. This information is collected for systems administration and for analyzing and improving the value of the material available on the HFSA websites.

Security of Information

The HFSA views security of confidential and private information as a top priority. The HFSA provides secure transmission of sensitive and personal information from your computers to the HFSA's (or its affiliate's) web servers. For instance, when credit card information is transmitted, the HFSA uses the industry standard SSL (security socket layer) encryption. SSL encryption is a state-of-the-art technology by which information is encrypted while being transmitted over the Internet. Unfortunately, no data transmission over the Internet can be guaranteed to be absolutely secure and the HFSA does not ensure or warrant the security of the transmission of information. Once the information is received by the HFSA via the website, it is stored behind a firewall. The HFSA also maintains access control procedures. All HFSA employees are aware of the privacy and security policies. Information received from you is only accessible to those employees who have a legitimate need for the information in order to perform their jobs.

Correction and Opt-Out Procedures

If your personally identifiable customer information changes, we will endeavour to correct, update or remove the personal data provided to us. Please sign in to the IAIS 2008 Annual Conference website to find the contact information or send your request for change to the Conference Secretariat at secretariat@pszaf.hu. If you no longer wish to receive Conference newsletters, promotional materials or other electronic communications, you may indicate that at the same e-mail address.

Notification of Change

The HFSA reserves the right to change its privacy policy. The most current privacy policy will be posted on the Conference website so you are always aware of what information the HFSA collects, how it is used, and under what circumstances, if any, it is disclosed. If at any point the HFSA decides to use personally identifiable information in a manner different from that stated at the time it was collected, the HFSA will notify users by way of an e-mail. The HFSA will provide a method for users to opt-out of using their information in this different manner.
